Virtual and on-site solutions to address COVID-19 for your workforce

To help your organization during the COVID-19 pandemic, Cerner is offering a suite of virtual and on-site services to screen, test and treat COVID-19 to help mitigate risks across your workforce.

Virtual access to primary care
Cerner has collaborated with HealthTap to provide your workforce with 24/7 digital access to primary care. Employees and their dependents can connect with a U.S.-based, board-certified physician, search physician-written content and receive guidance about COVID-19-related symptoms.

Virtual care coordination services with digital care plans
Cerner care managers leverage a digital care management solution embedded with COVID-19 care plans. Cerner care managers can engage with employees through the digital application with automated virtual check-ins to proactively intervene and provide recommendations.

On-site temperature screenings
Trained professionals conduct temperature checks for employees upon arrival to work. Employees screened with a temperature of >100.3 are flagged, and your organization will be notified. Staff are equipped with infrared, no-touch thermometers and personal protection equipment (PPE).

On-site and home COVID-19 testing
To help you provide COVID-19 testing to employees who need it, our team will advise on the optimal form of diagnostic or antibody testing. Trained professionals are available to provide on-site testing, or you can offer at-home collection testing to employees.

Key benefits
The suite of virtual and on-site services is designed to help:

- Enable convenient options to screen, test and treat COVID-19
- Lessen the risk of COVID-19 exposure and spread among your workforce
- Integrate into existing workforce health programs
